College of Letters & Science Concurrent Enrollment Policy

At a spring 2019 meeting, the L&S Executive Committee (EC) reviewed its regulation on Concurrent Enrollment (CE). For the purpose of this letter, Concurrent Enrollment is defined as simultaneous enrollment at UC Berkeley and UC Extension or non-UC Berkeley institutions during a fall or spring term.

L&S Regulation 130 states: Concurrent enrollment in courses offered by University Extension (including correspondence courses) or at other institutions is not permitted except in extraordinary circumstances, and no credit will be given for such courses unless the approval of the Associate Dean responsible for undergraduate advising has been obtained prior to enrollment.

The EC affirmed the regulation, and the College's current practices will align with this policy. Effective Fall 2019, L&S will adhere to the following practices in regard to concurrent enrollment:

- Approval will be granted when the student requests it via a petition in advance, and the petition documents an extraordinary circumstance that would prohibit the student from taking the course(s) on campus. (Reasons for requesting concurrent enrollment will remain the same on the updated Concurrent Enrollment Form).

- If a student does not receive approval before starting a concurrent enrollment course in Fall 2019 or later, no credit will be given on the Berkeley transcript for that course.

- Simultaneous Degrees: Students declared for simultaneous degrees (i.e. two Colleges) must be approved as required by the rules of both Colleges.

IAS NEWS & NOTES

The IAS News & Notes will be on hiatus for the holidays and will return in January 2020 with the first issue of the New Year.
MERIDIAN INSTITUTE RUCKELHAUS FELLOWSHIP

Meridian Institute is a mission-driven, non-profit organization that has helped our clients and partners develop and implement solutions to complicated, often controversial problems - big and small, global and local, for over two decades.

The Meridian Institute Fellowship Program provides an opportunity for early-career professionals to contribute to Meridian's mission to help people collaborate to solve complex problems, make informed decisions, and implement solutions that improve lives, the environment, and the economy. The fellowship is a two-year, full-time position in Meridian's Dillon, CO or Washington, DC offices. Fellows who are selected will begin work in June 2020.

- Visit Meridian Institute Portal to apply
- Visit the Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) web page for information about the Meridian Ruckelshaus Fellowship
- Application Deadline: Sunday, January 12, 2020, 10pm

SPRING 2020 INTERNSHIP: BERKELEY CITY COUNCIL

The Office of Berkeley City Council member Rigel Robinson is accepting internship applications for Spring 2020. The District 7 office will host one intern and multiple volunteer fellows for the spring semester. The office intern will receive a stipend of $500 for the semester and is expected to work a minimum of 10 hours a week. Fellows are unpaid and are expected to work between four and eight hours a week. Candidates of all backgrounds are encouraged to apply as long as they are passionate about progressive policy making and the future of the City of Berkeley. Interns and fellows support the policy development process by drafting legislation, writing reports and memos, and conducting background research.

- To apply, complete the application by Sunday, January 26, 2020, 11:59pm PST

WELCOME BACK ALEX MAURICE!

The Global Studies and the Political Economy majors would like to welcome back Alex Maurice as a part-time adviser. He was an adviser in our programs several years ago, and we are delighted to have him back with us as we continue to grow. Alex has worked in higher education for almost 20 years at universities in New York and the San Francisco Bay Area. He will be advising students in our majors and will also function as a career-development adviser. He will be available to discuss possible career paths for our majors and also to review and offer feedback with resumes, cover letters, and interview coaching.
