IAS HONORS PROGRAM FALL 2020-2021

Professor Ballenger will schedule an information session - to be held via Zoom - during RRR week. The exact date is yet to be determined, but two or three of this year’s honors cohort will likely be present to answer questions about their experience.

Interested students should email Professor Ballenger directly at sballenger@berkeley.edu. Include the following information in your email message: Your full name; your UC Berkeley email address; Your major (Global Studies or Political Economy). If Global Studies, provide focus: Development, Peace and Conflict, Societies and Culture. If Political Economy, provide concentration topic.

Students will receive an email from Professor Ballenger with the date, time and information required to join the Zoom meeting.

Students should make sure that they meet the minimum requirements: Cumulative UCB GPA = 3.5; major GPA = 3.6. Admission to the program is contingent on a) the Professor’s approval of an initial proposal which is due on the first day of class in the fall (August 26, 2020) and b) securing a commitment from an adviser to serve as a "second reader.” The deadline for this will be sometime during fall semester but students are encouraged to start thinking about this as early as possible. General guidelines for how to prepare an initial proposal will be provided AFTER the information session.

P/NP GRADES FOR GLOBAL STUDIES & POLITICAL ECONOMY MAJORS

As you are aware, the UC Berkeley campus has made the default grading option for every course this term P/NP. You also have the option to select a letter grade option by May 8, 2020. The Interdisciplinary Social Science Programs (ISSP) which houses the Global Studies and Political Economy majors will accept P/NP grades for all lower-division and upper-division courses that count towards the major for the spring 2020 semester ONLY. This includes courses taken at UC Berkeley as well as other universities and community colleges. Again, we want to assure you that classes* taken this semester towards the Global Studies or the Political Economy major will satisfy major requirements even though you received P grades.

*See below for grading information related to GLOBAL 45 and GLOBAL 10A courses

GLOBAL 45 & GLOBAL 10A GRADING INFORMATION

Students are required to earn a B- or better in GLOBAL 45 in order to declare either the Political Economy or Global Studies major. In addition, students who want to declare Global Studies must also earn a C or better in GLOBAL 10A.

Even though grades are P/NP this term, instructors in these courses will be calculating grades as if they are not. That means that your instructors, Professors Gottreich and Zook will be keeping track of your grades using the standard letter grading plan. They will report the grades to the program’s advisors who can then determine whether or not you are eligible to declare one of these majors.

If you earn a B- or better in GLOBAL 45, whether or not you choose to have the letter grade on your transcript, you will be admitted to the major.

If you earn a C+ or a C in GLOBAL 45, you ordinarily will not be admitted to the major. For this semester only, we will allow you to be admitted to your selected major if you complete an upper-division course from the list below, in the academic year 2020-21, and earn a B- or better. If you do not earn at least a B- in one of those courses, you will need to find another major.

If you earn a C-, D+, D, or D-, you will receive a P grade. Please note that normally only grades of C- and above would be eligible for a P grade. We are therefore expanding the number of students who will Pass, but to be clear, students who receive any of these grades (C-, D+, D, or D-) will not be eligible for the majors.

- POLECON COURSES: POLECON 100; POLECON 101
- GLOBAL STUDIES COURSES: GLOBAL 100 (D, P, S); GLOBAL 110 (E, L, K, M, Q); GLOBAL 102

"THE THIRD HARMONY: NON-VIOLENCE & THE NEW STORY OF HUMAN NATURE" - An online conversation with UC Berkeley Professor Emeritus Michael Nagler

The UC Berkeley Public Service Center, The UC Berkeley Global Studies Program and the The Martin Luther King, Jr., Research and Education Institute at Stanford invite you for this book conversation and film preview with UC Berkeley Professor Emeritus Michael Nagler. In his latest book, Professor Nagler argues that nonviolence - not just a tactic but as a way of being - is the only way to unite deeply divided people and enable progressive movements and leaders of all stripes to fulfill their promise and potential.

Michael Nagler is professor emeritus of Classics and Comparative Literature at UC Berkeley, Founder of the Peace and Conflict Studies Program, and Founder and President of the Metta Center for Nonviolence. He has also written numerous books and articles, including The Search for a Nonviolent Future, which received the 2002 American Book Award.

- Wednesday, April 22, 2020, 9:30pm PST
- Free event. RSVP here
VIRTUAL GLOBAL AFFAIRS CAREER FORUM: APRIL 23, 2020, 4pm EST

The Women's Foreign Policy Group would like to extend an invitation to attend their Virtual Global Affairs Career Forum on April 23, 2020. The Women's Foreign Policy Group (WFPG) provides role models for future leaders, encourages them to enter careers in public service and international affairs, and to help them navigate the many career paths available. The informal atmosphere of this event encourages dialogue and enables students to ask questions and seek insight on the range of skills and experiences needed to succeed in international careers.

The two-part program will begin with a panel discussion with international affairs practitioners. Students will hear how they got started and what advice they have for those just launching their career. Following the panel discussion, attendees will break out into smaller virtual round table conversations to give students the chance to ask more in-depth questions of the mentors. Sectors represented will include: international development, human rights, diplomatic service, and international organizations.

- Thursday, April 23, 2020, 4pm EST
- Space is limited and advance registration is required. Learn more and register here
